

Enough Signers to Force Vote on Sales Tax

HOPE (AP) — Publisher Alex Washburn said today that he has collected enough signatures to force the 3 per cent sales tax to a popular vote in 1938, but he has given up hope of calling a special election.

"The signature total on our petitions seeking a popular vote on the 3 per cent sales tax now stands at 35,000 and should reach 50,000 before the June 12 filing deadline," Washburn said.

The sales tax was increased from 2 to 3 cents by the 1937 Legislature with strong backing by Gov. Orval Faubus.

Washburn spoke against the increase at legislative committee meetings and, after the Legislature adjourned, launched a campaign to refer to a vote of the people.

"Obviously, we are going to file the petition for a vote in the general election of 1938, on which we will double the signature requirement of 23,941," said the publisher of the Hope Star, "and abandon the petition for a special election, on which the signature requirement is 99,853."

This decision has been in the making for some time. The last two months I have traveled 3,000 miles, canvassed personally in 25 counties, and I have been counseled by people throughout the state against pressing for a special election because of the uncertainties surrounding it, and because the much larger vote anticipated in the general election will be to our advantage.

"Also, of course, there is the matter of money. I have collected to date $6,352.38, of which I donated $2,500 personally besides possibly $2,000 more in personal guarantees, and my newspaper company donated $1,000. All this is far short of the $12,000 I publicly estimated would be required to circulate the special election petition for 60,000 signatures."

If enough signatures on the special election petition had been gathered, the calling of such an election would have been up to Faubus. If the governor wished to do so, he could have delayed the election for months. By the time the issue is put before the people on the 1938 general election ballot, the 3 per cent tax will have been in effect almost three years.

Washburn has been sharply critical of Faubus and others who opposed a referendum, demanding that the voters should have a chance to express an opinion on the increased tax.

Faubus has declared that the extra funds are necessary for the additional money for schools, welfare and other state services. The governor had estimated that the tax would produce an additional 10 million dollars a year, but it has fallen far behind that annual rate in the three months it has been in effect.

Washburn's statement today also said:

"I pledged the people of Arkansas in my appearance before the Senate Revenue and Taxation Committee hearing in Little Rock January 28 that if the Legislature increased the sales tax rate I would see to it that the increase is referred to a popular vote. I have kept that pledge at whatever cost. The time of the election is immaterial — the people of Arkansas will smash the 3 per cent sales tax any time it comes to a vote, be it a year from now or ten."

The 35,000-signature figure announced today is drawn from 30 counties and we are adding new ones every day. On the 3 per cent requirement in 15 counties minimum, we have already qualified in 20 counties and will qualify finally in about 30. I have mailed notices to all correspondents to have last-minute petitions at state headquarters in Hotel Grady Manning (Little Rock) by Saturday, June 8."

Crippled Children's Clinic Set June 13

The Crippled Children's Division will hold a diagnostic and checkup clinic on June 13, 1937 at the Miller County Health Unit in Texarkana. Children invited to this clinic are to register at 8 a. m.

Children from Hempstead County who do not have transportation may contact the Welfare or County Health Office for rides to the clinic.

Probably the best thing to do for prematurely gray hair is to admit it.

Mississippi to Drop Sharply

MEMPHIS (AP) — Barring heavy rain in the northern tributaries, the Mississippi River will drop about 9 feet here within the next week, the Memphis Weather Bureau reported today.

The swollen river, now running past Memphis almost bank full, crested here at 29.6 feet Saturday. It is falling at the rate of 1 to 2 feet daily.

U. S. Agrees to Let Japs Try Soldiers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States agreed today to let a Japanese court try an American soldier charged with killing a Japanese woman.

By the decision announced at the Pentagon, the United States drops any claim to the right to try Specialist 3C William C. Girard by court-martial.

The joint statement by Secretary of State Dulles and Secretary of Defense Wilson said the agreement was made after consideration by a joint United States-Japan committee.

The decision was made under terms of the status-of-forces agreement between the two countries.

The announcement said it "was reached in full accord with procedures established by the treaty and agreement, and that in order to preserve the integrity of the pledges of the United States, this determination by the joint committee must be carried out."

The Japanese woman, Mrs. Naka Sakai, 46, was shot while scavenging scrap metal at a U. S. Army firing range Jan. 30.

Girard was charged with shooting the woman while attempting to chase the scavengers away — with an empty brass cartridge case which he had stuffed into a grenade launcher.

Japanese authorities, in contending they should have jurisdiction, in the case, asserted that Girard was off duty at the time of the incident — a legal point involved in the status-of-forces agreement.

However, the Defense Department in its statement today said that Girard and another soldier, Specialist 3C Victor M. Nickel, "were ordered" by a platoon leader to guard a machinegun and other equipment — thus making the point that Girard was on duty.

The accusation under which the 21-year-old American now faces Japanese trial carries a maximum penalty of 15 years in prison.

Explosion of New Device in 24-Hours

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. — Explosion of the United States' first balloon-suspended nuclear device, postponed 24 hours, now is set tentatively for tomorrow morning.

Atomic Energy Commission spokesmen said last night that one of the key experiments was not ready for proposed firing today.

Dr. Gerald Johnson, director of the Nevada Test Organization, announced plans for the third shot of the current series.

The balloon, 67 feet in diameter, of a plastic-type material, will be 500 feet above Yucca Flat. Four steel cables will anchor it, and elaborate safety devices will assure it doesn't get away.

About 45 experiments, including 16 on military effects, will be conducted. Eighteen aircraft will be in the area, most of them on support missions. One experiment, using a small number of rabbits will study sensitivity of the eye to nuclear flash.

Using the balloon is expected to reduce fall-out, put operational costs and facilitate detonation. Planned yield of the shot is well below nominal — 20 kilotons.

Meanwhile, in Salt Lake City a Utah Health Department official attributed a sharp rise in that area's radioactive contamination of the air to a May 28 nuclear test blast here. The test site is about 350 air miles southwest of Salt Lake City.

Ellis R. Shields, one of the officials in charge of a radiation measuring device operated by the department in the Utah capital building, said contamination yesterday reached 888 micro milers before dropping. A check of the device earlier in the day showed 240.

A reading of less than 1,000 micro milers is considered safe, officials have said. Normal for this area, they said, is 3.7.

Son, Nephew of Dave Beck Cited for Contempt

By HERBERT FOSTER

WASHINGTON (UP) — Chairman John L. McClellan of the Senate Rackets Committee today ordered contempt of Congress action against the son and nephew of Teamsters President Dave Beck.

McClellan ordered contempt proceedings started by the committee staff after a fruitless questioning of Dave Beck Jr. and Joseph McEvoy, Beck's nephew by marriage, on their relations with the Teamsters union and its payroll.

Beck Jr. invoked the Fifth Amendment 130 times in refusing to tell committee investigators whether he got nearly $65,000 in salary and expenses from the union.

McEvoy invoked the Fifth Amendment 90 times on similar questions. Both men refused to say even whether they knew the senior Beck.

McClellan told the two balking witnesses that he doubted that "the founding fathers... ever conceived such flagrant abuse would be made" of the Fifth Amendment "as has been made of it since this committee started its hearings and particularly today."

He said that if the courts sustain the right of the two witnesses to invoke the Fifth Amendment to many of the questions asked them today, "then America faces a great danger" and law enforcement could "break down."

Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.), a committee member, would vote a contempt citation and that the Senate would approve it.

Mundt said a "clear-cut" judicial ruling is needed on the question of whether witnesses can use the Fifth Amendment "in an irresponsible and capricious manner."

Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D-N.C.) commented that "if the Fifth Amendment didn't have a lot of vitality, it would have been plumb wore out today."

If the committee recommends contempt citations and the Senate votes them, they will go to the Justice Department for prosecution. Maximum penalty upon conviction is a year in jail and $1,000 fine.

Young Beck had refused to say whether he knew his father "on grounds that it may incriminate me."

Junior even refused to say whom he was named for, though Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr. (D-N.C.) said he got his name when he was "too small to be guilty of any criminal offense."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dave Beck Jr., son of the Teamsters Union president, goes before Senate rackets probes today for a quizzing about his business deals with the union.

The special Senate committee headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) also called Joseph McEvoy, husband of a niece of the senior Mrs. Beck, for questioning on similar scores.

Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, said both would be asked whether "through the influence of Beck Sr., they profited financially." He said both also will be asked where they were while committee investigators searched for them for two months.

This may wind up the committee's investigation of the Teamsters.

McClellan said the start of an inquiry into financial affairs of the Bakers Union was being put off until Thursday because of a death in the family of the lawyer for one witness.

Envoy to Russia Talks With Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Llewellyn E. Thompson, the new U. S. ambassador to Russia, conferred with President Eisenhower today and got "his ideas on a lot of things" dealing with the Soviet Union.

Thompson told newsmen after the conference that he plans to leave Wednesday for Vienna where he has been serving as Ambassador. He estimated it will take him three to four weeks to settle remaining business in Austria before going on to Moscow.

Asked whether Eisenhower gave him any special instructions, Thompson replied "the usual thing."

Asked then whether there was any discussion of prospects for reaching a disarmament agreement with Russia, Thompson smiled and replied he felt he had better not discuss particulars. He added that Eisenhower gave him "his ideas on a lot of things."

Doctors Say No Safe Dose for Radiation

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three noted geneticists told Congress today radiation from nuclear weapons tests can be measured in shortened, damaged lives for thousands or perhaps millions of people in coming generations.

Radioactive fall-out at the present rate will add only a fraction to the total of human death and misery, they said. But irreparable harm has been done to hereditary materials which constitute the mold in which the human race is cast, they said.

Any increase in fall-out, the scientist agreed, will increase the damage proportionately because from the standpoint of genetics there is no "safe dose" of radiation.

In statement prepared for a Senate-House Atomic Energy subcommittee exploring fall-out hazards, these views were unfolded by Dr. James F. Crow of the University of Wisconsin, Dr. Bentley Glass of the Johns Hopkins University and Dr. Herman J. Muller of the University of Indiana.

Summing up his "conclusions," Crow said: "With the present levels of fall-out, the amount of genetic damage in the future generations from this cause will be a very small fraction of the total human death, disease and misery."

"On the other hand the number of persons exposed to fall-out is as large as the world population, and therefore we can be sure that several thousands, or perhaps more persons will be diseased, or

Arkansas Gets a Storm Warning

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The U. S. Weather Bureau here issued this severe weather warning at 10:25 a. m. today:

"A few severe thunderstorms with hail and chance of isolated tornado or two are expected in an approximate area along and 60 miles either side of a line from 40 miles southwest of Fort Smith, Ark., to 30 miles southeast of Lake Charles, La., from 1 p. m. to 8 p. m."

Fort Smith, in extreme western Arkansas, and many southwest Arkansas points are in the area.

Co-ops Against Restriction on Resales

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A precedent-setting proposal to restrict co-op resale of public utility power was protested to the state Public

The Arkansas Electric Co-Operative Corp. contended the move would infringe on the rights of the co-operatives, would narrow the rate-making authority federal act.

The PSC is conducting hearings on a proposed new contract between the Southwestern Gas & Electric Co. and the federal Southwestern Power Administration.

One contract stipulation is that Southwestern Gas shall not be required to deliver power to a co-op for resale to any large industrial or commercial user.

A PSC official said he doubted any of the co-ops affected — those in Texarkana, Fayetteville, Berryville, Ozark and Mena — were doing so. But the eventuality could come about if industrial plants locate in present co-op territory within cities.

PSC approval of the proposed contract, which Southwestern Gas seeks, could be far-reaching. Other public utilities presumably might strive for new contracts with the SPA containing similar restrictions on resale of power.

Decision May Speed Laws on Anti-trust

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) predicted today the court-decreed separation of Du Pont Co. from General Motors Corp. will give fresh impetus to anti-trust bills pending in Congress.

The senator, who presided over a long inquiry into General Motors 1 1/2 years ago, also told a reporter that his 1936 suggestions for dismembering GM — the world's biggest manufacturing firm — "should be followed through."

"I think this decision will be a memorable one in the history of the Supreme Court and the interpretation of the antitrust laws," he said.

The high court's 4-2 decision yesterday set off arguments on Capitol Hill and created some apparent confusion in industry. Sen. Frear (D-Id.) said the ruling "could in my opinion have an adverse economic effect on the country at large."

"It seems to me the court has gone far and wide and found only the thinnest possible basis on which to reach its majority opinion," he said.

The court ruled that the huge chemical firm must give up its "commanding position" in General Motors. It ordered the case returned to a district court in Chicago for determination of just how that should be accomplished. The process was expected to be a long one.

Du Pont's 23 per cent stock interest in GM, the Supreme Court decided, results in violation of the Clayton Antitrust Act. Du Pont started buying GM stock 40 years ago and says it now holds 63 million shares. Other sources put the total at more than 64 million.

Justice Brennan, speaking for the four-judge majority, said Du Pont "purposely employed the stock to pry open the General Motors market to enrich itself."

Although he said top officials of both firms "acted honorably and fairly" in behalf of their respective firms "without any design to overreach anyone."

Plans Mapped for Disaster Aid to State

By The Associated Press

The 1937 Arkansas flood was becoming a memory today but its effects were under discussion by federal and state officials.

Concrete plans for speedy financial aid were mapped at a Little Rock meeting Monday.

At Washington, the Agriculture Department designated four Arkansas counties — Clay, Craighead, Crawford and Greene — as areas available for emergency federal loans.

The Arkansas Disaster Committee said it will recommend nine other counties for the aid.

At North Little Rock, some 1,300 persons were given typhoid shots as a health precaution. Officials said anyone exposed closely to recent flood waters should be inoculated.

As for the once-rampaging Arkansas River, its crest had moved out of the state into the Mississippi River, Army Engineers said at Little Rock.

A few engineer units kept watch on levees for bank cave-ins.

The Arkansas National Guard, which massed 500 men as flood-fighters during the high water peak, relieved the last of its units from levee duty Monday.

Civil Defense officials explained.

Flood Slows State Cotton Planting

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Crop Reporting Service today said that as much as 20 per cent of the cotton acreage in major Arkansas producing counties will have to be replanted because of recent heavy rains and floods.

Some farmers probably will not be able to plant all their allotted acres because of the flood conditions, the service said in its weekly summary.

Limited field work on most lowlands because of intermittent rain is expected to delay the seed for cotton choppers. Chopping is not yet general because of the weather, but a large acreage is ready to be chopped, the report said.

Rice planting is nearing completion in a few counties and is fast finished or better in most others. Most early planting fields are up to a good stand, and many are being flooded.

Economy Zip Doesn't Call for a Tax Dip

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE
WASHINGTON, D. C.—There is still "zip" in the nation's economy but not sufficient to warrant hasty income tax reduction.

This was the virtually unanimous opinion of economists and businessmen whose testimony yesterday launched a two-week probe of the state of the nation's business health and what to do about tax cuts and monetary policy. Another group appears today.

Of the first day's testimony before a Senate - House Economic Subcommittee, Chairman Mills (D-Ark) said: "The conclusion I reached is that the economic situation does not offer justification for immediate tax reduction."

He said it was significant that "both the extremes of business and labor" were in agreement that inflation posed a troublesome problem in fixing future monetary and tax policies.

"The testimony clearly indicated that the buoyancy of the economy is somewhat reduced, but there is enough zip left that the relaxation of monetary policy (credit curbs) or reduction of taxes would only serve to intensify inflationary pressures," he told a reporter.

Commenting on the careful opinions of a panel of six experts, Mills summed up his conclusions this way:

1. Inflation for the next year or two may be the No. 1 economic problem of the government—a result of spiraling prices, wages and living costs.

2. A reduction in government

State Workers Get Less Than U. S. Average

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas factory workers earn one per cent less than the national average, partly because of the type of industries in this state, a University of Arkansas survey disclosed yesterday.

The Industrial Research Center issued a report listing an Arkansas factory wage average of $1.41 compared to $2 per hour for the nation.

The report explained that half of the factories in Arkansas belong to the low-wage bracket compared to a 28 per cent average for the nation.

But the survey showed that Arkansas wages in almost every industrial category were lower than the U. S. average.

The report listed El Dorado as the highest wage area. The average there was $1.95 hourly. Other high wage areas included Malvern, $1.82; Camden, $1.68; Crossett $1.75 and Fort Smith, $1.51.

Falling in the medium category were Little Rock with $1.37 and Pine Bluff with $1.35.

At the bottom of the scale were Helena with $1.16; Mena, $1.18; Mountain Home, $1.19; Harrison and Blytheville, $1.21, and Fayetteville and Russellville, $1.22.

Dr. Paul Brann, director of the Research Center, said the report is one of a series designed to provide information on Arkansas working conditions and manpower.

Congress to Probe Tax Cut Possibility

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress set out today to get answers to the question: "When can taxes be cut?" A Senate-Economic subcommittee headed by Rep. Mills (D-Ark.) starts two weeks of hearings to gather the opinions of economists, bankers and businessmen.

Although the congressional budget-cutting campaign continues, leaders have virtually abandoned hopes of tax reduction this year in the face of continued high government spending.

Certain to come under subcommittee scrutiny is the Eisenhower administration's "light money" policies—anti-inflationary moves to curb inflation. This has resulted in increased interest rates.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) predicted Congress will turn down Eisenhower's proposal to raise interest rates further on various types of federal loans.

Asserting people are "fed up with the gouging they are getting in high interest charges under his administration," Johnson accused the administration of "a determined effort to raise interest rates all across the board."

The subcommittee inquiry follows up reports by staff economists of the tax-writing House Ways and Means Committee and Senate Finance Committee. Both predicted that rising prices for government goods and services will boost federal spending beyond Eisenhower's January spending estimate of $71,800,000,000 for 1958.

"Budget expenditures for the fiscal years 1957 and 1958 may exceed the January estimates by 1 to 1½ billion dollars in each year," the economic subcommittee staff reported 10 days ago.

Coupled with the budget situation, the Mills subcommittee will inquire into the general economic situation throughout the country and the fiscal action needed to maintain its stability.

British Test Sets Entire Island Afire

By RONALD THOMSON
CHRISTMAS ISLAND (AP)—Britain's second H-bomb blast generated heat nearly 2,000 times that of the sun's surface and set an island ablaze.

William Cook, chief scientist for the British nuclear tests in the Pacific, said Friday's explosion was a "complete success in every way."

The heat generated, Cook told reporters yesterday, was rated at 10 million degrees centigrade (18,000,000 degrees Fahrenheit). The average heat of the sun's surface is figured at 10,000 degrees Fahrenheit.

The bomb, reportedly equal to five million tons of TNT, was dropped by a Valiant jet bomber and exploded about two miles high, near the small Pacific atoll of Malden, 400 miles south of Hawaii.

The British bomb was believed to be about half the size of the H-bomb the Americans tested at Bikini last year.

Cook said the blast set timber afire over a 10-mile five-mile length. Four hours later fires still raged, he added.

"Even pieces of wood washed up on the shore appeared to be blazing," Cook said.

The explosion, recorded by scientific instruments placed on Malden, caused no radiation contamination on the island, he said.

This finding led to speculation the British may have perfected a "clean" bomb that could be used for land or sea warfare.

British nuclear scientists taking part in the operation said such a bomb could be used as a field weapon. It would provide a high degree of safety for nonmilitary troops moving into the blast area once direct fallout had cleared—probably within a few days.

They stressed, however, that for such use the bomb would have to be touched off at least two miles high. At lower levels, fallout would imperil troops on both sides.

Pilots flying over Malden after Friday's blast saw no sign of Perry, the wild pig, only living things left on Malden among a complex of barometers and radiation measuring instruments.

Reports of a rough apparently unscathed after Britain's first nuclear blast May 15.

Texas Takes Another Rain Beating

DALLAS (AP)—Wide sections of Texas took another beating from the weather over the weekend and flooding continued today in many parts of the waterlogged state.

Heavy rain streams were on the rise from the Oklahoma border to the Rio Grande after torrential weekend rains in both Oklahoma and Texas. Several tornadoes were reported but caused little or no damage.

At least seven Texas deaths were linked to the weather yesterday. Five persons were killed in a two-car collision in a rain storm. Two unidentified gunmen were shot down in a falling street in Dallas and were pronounced dead.

Memorial Day Holiday Kills 408 Persons

By The Associated Press

Millions of American motorists wound up the long four-day Memorial Day weekend last night with a better safety record than expected.

There 2343 408 accidental deaths on the nation's highways for the holiday period. The toll was about what it would have been on any comparable nonholiday period in the summer.

California led the nation with 36 traffic deaths. Texas was second with 32. North Dakota reported none.

The national toll, however, was well above the 347 traffic deaths recorded on the last previous four-day Memorial Day weekend in 1955. Fewer cars were on the road then, though.

The latest count of accidental deaths for the period from 6 p.m. last Wednesday to midnight yesterday included 396 highway fatalities, 133 drownings and 113 from miscellaneous causes.

The National Safety Council commented: "We congratulate drivers and law enforcement agencies for doing a fine job over the long weekend."

The council made no estimate of motorist deaths expected to die on any four-day summer period not involving a holiday.

The council's prediction of 120 highway deaths for the Memorial Day period alone (6 p.m. Wednesday to midnight Thursday) was 26 above the actual toll.

The council made no estimate of traffic deaths for the long holiday weekend because many stores and offices reopened, on Friday after the Memorial Day Thursday.

Scientists Seek to End Nuclear Tests

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Two thousand American scientists have signed an appeal urging international agreement now to stop the testing of nuclear bombs, a Nobel Prize-winning biochemist announced today.

Dr. Linus Pauling called it "an appeal by American scientists to the governments and to the people of the world."

The statement says "Each added amount of radiation causes damage to the health of human beings all over the world." It warns of "an increase in the number of seriously defective children."

In future generations" and adds: "As scientists we have knowledge of the dangers involved and therefore a special responsibility to make those dangers known."

Pauling, head of the Division of Technology in Pasadena, said the statement was prepared by him "as an individual scientist and was signed by other scientists as individuals."

The 2,000 signatures were received in four days—last Wednesday through Saturday. Signers included two other Nobel Prize winners—Dr. H. J. Muller, Indiana University, who received the prize in 1946 for discovering the penetrating radiation produces mutations in plants and animals, and Dr. Joseph E. Bregman, Washington University, St. Louis, Mo., 1944 winner in physiology and medicine.

Test Pilot in 18 Mile Trip Into Space

SOUTH ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—A daring Air Force test pilot, sealed in a metal capsule attached to a huge plastic balloon, rode to a record-breaking 98,000 feet—18 miles—yesterday in a flight he said was "inspiring...the proudest of my life."

Capt. J. W. Kittinger Jr., 28, bettered by nearly four miles the previous manned balloon altitude mark of 76,000 feet, set over Rapid City, S. D., by two Navy commanders last November.

He described the trip, from takeoff at 8:23 a.m. at Fletting Field here to the landing near Weaver, Minn., about 80 miles south at 12:57 p.m., as "completely successful."

The flight was one in a series of tests which may prove valuable in rocket and possible manned satellite flights. Another manned balloon will be sent to over 100,000 for 24 hours sometime this summer.

Kittinger spent about 12 hours in the cramped 5x7-foot pressurized capsule. He entered the craft at 1 a.m. to begin instrument tests and checks.

Asked if he suffered any feelings of claustrophobia, he replied: "I've spent six days in that capsule and it feels just like home."

He said the view was "most beautiful and inspiring," and that from his position just a few miles east of Minneapolis he could see the eastern boundaries of Lake Michigan.

He said he was not nervous during the flight and that the ascent was made in 78 minutes. He remained at 98,000 feet. The balloon's maximum, for an hour and 50 minutes before being summoned down when voice radio facilities in the gondola failed.

It had originally been planned to keep the balloon at height for several hours.

Kittinger wore a pressure suit in the instrument-crammed gondola. He said the temperature remained at a comfortable 55 degrees inside although it was 70 below outside. For lunch he ate a peanut butter and jelly sandwich.

A medical report after a physical examination on his return came up with a verdict of " hale and hearty," Kittinger said.

LITTLE ROCK, June 3 (Special)—Arkansas Louisiana Gas Co., in its first quarter report to stockholders, painted a glowing picture of increased profits attributable to the liberal earnings from its industrial customers in Arkansas.

which the Public Service Commission has twice approved, first before and then after the Arkansas Supreme Court had reversed the initial order okaying higher rates calculated to produce $4,500,000 additional income.

Ark-La's three-month net operating income before income taxes was $5,720,073, and after income taxes and interest the net stood at $2,815,973 compared with $2,735,159 in the corresponding quarter of 1956.

For the 12 months ending March 31, the earnings represented $1.56 per share, against $1.25 per share in the preceding year.

The company divided its income between its "utility division," $3,723,942 before income taxes, and its "non-utility division," $2,002,131 before income taxes, $1,258,432 after the company's net before interest was $3,289,767 for three months.

That is nearly 15 per cent on the $88,000,000 rate base the Arkansas Public Service Commission fixed in its recent order affecting several hours.

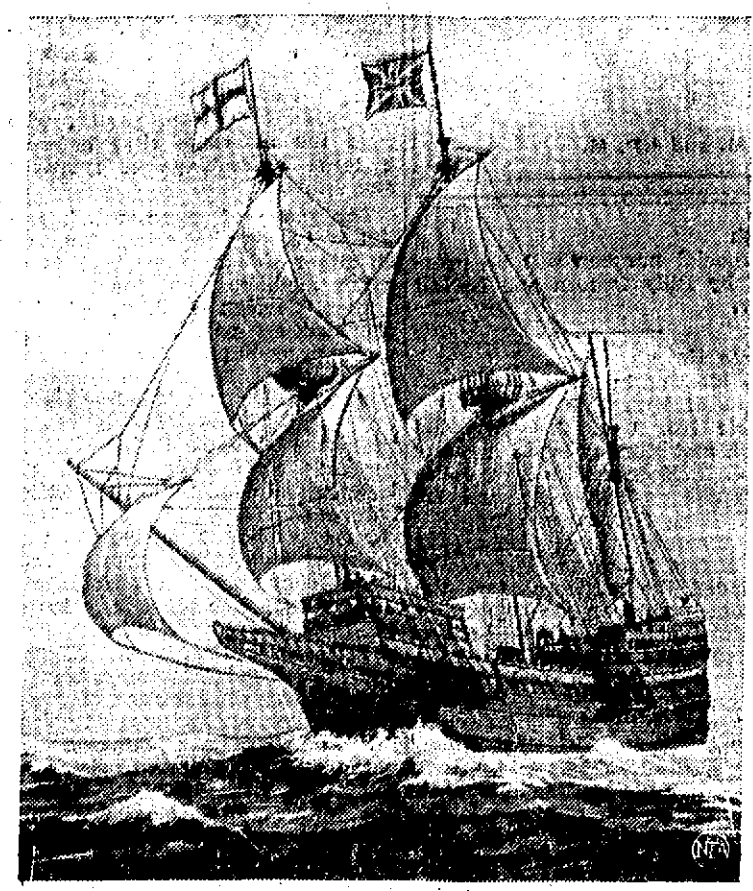

Kittinger wore a pressure suit in the instrument-crammed gondola. He said the temperature remained at a comfortable 55 degrees inside although it was 70 below outside. For lunch he ate a peanut butter and jelly sandwich.

A medical report after a physical examination on his return came up with a verdict of " hale and hearty," Kittinger said.

Ark-La, and more than 17 per cent on the Ark-La investment. Release of the quarterly report was followed by a further rise in the market value of the stock to nearly $25 per share. Taking two 10 per cent stock dividends into account, each share "for" which W. R. Stephens, now Ark-La Board chairman, agreed to pay Cities Service Co., $12.50 in October, 1954, now has a market value of approximately $30.

This is due entirely to the Arkansas rate increases approved in 1955 for all classes of customers. The Louisiana Public Service Commission has not been so quick to approve new Ark-La schedules.

Ark-La's stockholders were informed that seven wells were completed in the January-March period, five as oil producers and one as a gas producer, Ark-La.

has only a part interest in the latter. The other completed well was a dry hole. Its cost will be charged as an expense—and thus deducted for income tax purposes. The stockholders become the owners of the producers.

Output from company owned wells in the quarter was reported to have been 12½ billion cubic feet, an increase of 12½ per cent.

Also the stockholders were informed that plans are being prepared for construction of a cement plant near Foreman in Little River County and that it will be placed in operation in the fourth quarter of 1958.

A 30 cents per share stock dividend will be paid June 14 to stockholders of record May 31.

There's no need to pay a "fancy price" to enjoy fine-car luxury. Ford is lowest priced* of the low-price three; yet offers values you'd expect only in cars costing far more!

To start with, you can easily pay twice the money, and not find lines that can hold a candle to Ford's for lowness, loveliness, or just plain good taste.

But step inside. That's when you'll find the real evidence of Ford's quality!

And, on the way in, note that Ford offers door checks that hold doors open in either of two positions—for easy entrance or exit. A little thing. But, in a fine car, why not?

Then, inside, notice how comfortable those plush, foam-rubber seats are. They'll stay that way. And on long trips. For they're scientifically contoured over non-sag springs. Your rear-seat passengers are treated extra kindly, too—with spring assists to help them open and close the doors—with the most leg room in Ford's field!

Fine cars are smooth—and that's another place Ford really shows its stuff!

Ford delivers its famous V-8 power smooth as a whisper. That's because only Ford takes the pains to electronically balance each engine while running under its own power. Not even the makers of the most costly cars go this far to bring you super-smooth performance!

Ford rides fine-car smooth and quiet, too. You can thank the new "Inner Ford" for that. Ford, for instance, has a swept-back front suspension that actually "rolls with the punch" of every road bump.

Ford's rear springs automatically adjust to give the right ride for every road. And Ford keeps things quiet, with the most sound insulation in its field.

Fine cars are built to stay solid. So's Ford!

Ford has the only frame in its field to make use of rugged tubular steel beams. No car at the price offers so many roof-strengthening beams. Expensive cars aren't built of thicker body steel or with sounder engineering skill. Then, of course, in Ford you can have all the power assists and other conveniences found in fine cars. And they cost far less in Ford. Yes sir! In every feature, every part, Ford is the fine car at half the fine-car price. Come in and see!

$12,000 Was the Largest Fine

CLEVELAND (AP) - The $5,000 fine levied against six players by the New York Yankees ranks as the largest total docking ever administered by a major league club, but falls short of the top player fine in history.

The Yankee fine - $1,000 each against Mickey Mantle, Hank Bauer, Billy Martin, Yogi Berra and Whitey Ford and $500 against Johnny Kucks - tops the $5,000 fine slapped on Yankees Babe Ruth in 1935 for a dispute with Manager Miller Huggins and Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox for his 1935 spitting episode.

The Ruth and Williams fines, however, are tops for individual punishment.

Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, late commissioner of baseball, levied the largest fine of all time - $12,000-plus in 1921 - against Yankees' Ruth, Bob Muesel and Bill Piercy. Landis fined each his World Series share, figured at a little more than $4,000, for breaking his rule against post-season barnstorming.

The United States Military Academy (West Point) was founded in 1802.

Cal in Chance to Sew Up Baseball Title

By The Associated Press
The California Bears Pacific Coast Conference baseball champions, and first NCAA national winner 10 years ago, could sew up a collegiate world series berth today with a victory in the District 8 playoff. Six other district championships have been settled.

The Golden Bears would join seven of the country's top college teams in the series starting Saturday at Omaha with a victory over Pepperdine. California opened the best of three series yesterday with a 4-2 victory. Pepperdine, an at-large selection, must win two straight to win the title.

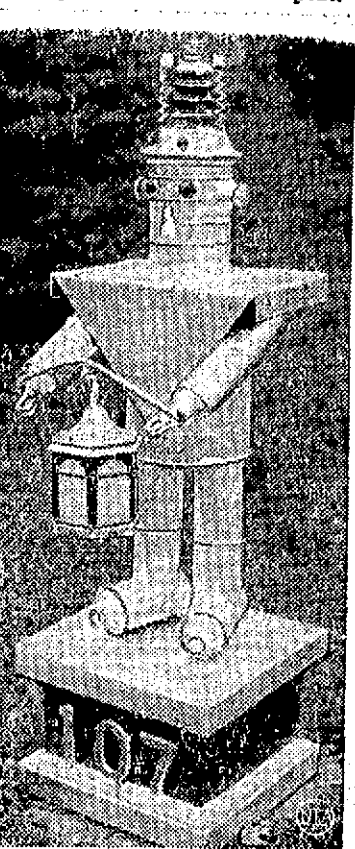

Two district series were settled yesterday.

Colorado State, Rocky Mountain Conference winner, pushed across three runs in the 13th inning to beat Denver and win the District 7 title. 2-1. Colorado State will meet the District 8 winner in the Omaha first round. Winning pitcher John Hogg fanned 18 and allowed five hits as he went the distance.

Lefty John Bristol and Jerry Boxer collaborated to hold Duke University to five hits as Florida State University, an at-large team, whipped PROMOTED - Lt. Gen. Thomas Power, above, has been named to succeed Gen. Curtis LeMay as commander of the Strategic Air Command, the nation's intercontinental bomber force. LeMay is scheduled to become Vice Chief of Staff of the Air Force this August. Power will be made a full general in his new post.

TIN CAN TOTOR - Paul Keyser, a schoolboy living in Bethel, Pa., some five years ago idolized Totor, the robot of a TV program. Giving in to the boy's request, his father, Albert Keyser, and a neighbor, Albert Schmucker, built not one but three of the weird mechanical fellows, complete with green eyes and red horns. The men used beer cans, fruit juice cans, tire chains and odds and ends to put Totor together. This one, owned by Schmucker, serves as an outdoor decoration and light.

N. Y. Mayor Wants Word About Move

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK (AP) - Walter O'Malley, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, and Horace Stoneham, head of the New York Giants, were expected today to clear the way to the West Coast at a City Hall meeting requested by Mayor Robert F. Wagner.

The mayor, who already has been quoted as saying he didn't intend to allow himself to be "blackjacked" into helping either the Dodgers or Giants financially, was seeking answers to several specific questions.

"Among the things he would like to know are:

1. A definite 'yes' or 'no' whether the Dodgers and Giants intend to remain in New York or move to Los Angeles and San Francisco.

2. Has O'Malley made any commitment to the Los Angeles people about bringing his Dodgers to California?

3. Are the reports true or false that O'Malley has already contracted with Skiatron TV Inc., of New York, to telecast all Dodger games from Los Angeles via pay-as-you-see for a annual two million-dollar fee.

Despite the mayor's insistence on the laying the facts on the table, the so-called "showdown meeting" was not expected to bring the situation to a head.

Both O'Malley and Stoneham are demanding new ball parks and the mayor feels the time is ripe now for a definite statement.

"We have until October to make up our minds," both have said.

Although the National League has given O'Malley and Stoneham the green light to move to the West Coast, it and when they make the request, no action can be taken, under baseball law, until Oct. 1.

And the Atlantic Coast Conference will play 4-1 in Gastonia, N. C. Florida State will represent District 8 in the world series against Penn State, District 2 champion.

The District 6 title could be settled today, also - if only Texas' wet weather would allow it. The second game of the Texas-Arkansas playoff for the district title was rained out yesterday at Austin.

The teams try again today with Texas leading the three-game series 1-0.

Reports Insist 2 Top Yankees to Be Traded

By JOE SARGIS

NEW YORK (UP) - Reports that two of the New York Yankees' "sinfu six" would be traded before the June 15 deadline popped up again today along with a front office statement that all was harmonious between General Manager George Weiss and Field Manager Casey Stengel.

The report of friction in the Yankees' front office followed a disclosure yesterday that six players - Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra, Hank Bauer, Billy Martin, Whitey Ford and Johnny Kucks - had been fined a total of $5,000 for their fight club antics on May 15.

Weiss, an astute judge of player talent best known for his lack of sentiment, declined at first to comment on the fines or his reported feud with Stengel, but later released a statement in which he said "reported friction between Stengel and myself is wholly untrue... and such allegations are nothing but deliberately malicious."

However, Weiss' statement served to minimize the Yankees' troubles rather than clarify them, since most of the fined players felt Stengel did not recommend such stiff penalties but was overruled by Weiss.

However, neither Stengel nor the players knew how stiff the fines would be until the players, with the exception of Kucks, noticed a deduction for $1,000 from their bi-monthly paychecks last Saturday. Kucks, who doesn't make anywhere near as much as the others, was fined $500. This, too, irked Stengel, who felt Kucks shouldn't have been given such a stiff penalty in view of his small earnings.

The players most often mentioned as "trade bait" are Bauer and Martin, both of whom are coveted by Chuck Dressen of the Washington Senators. The Yankees, who dropped five of seven games during the last week to the Baltimore Orioles and Washington Senators, have never looked as bad since the World War I Teams, and unless play picks up on the current 13-game Western trip, heads are expected to roll before the trading deadline.

The Yankees trailed the first-place Chicago White Sox by five games before leaving home.

It is recalled that in past years, Weiss never hesitated to trade away "night lighters" and even was instrumental in the firing of Manager Bucky Harris when he failed to reprimand Pitcher Joe Judge for his after-hours behavior.

Brewer Leads National Open Meet

By STEVE SNIDER

NEW YORK (UP) - National scoring honors went to Gay Brewer of Cincinnati but the happiest of 142 qualifiers for the U. S. Open Championship today was 45-year-old Samuel Jackson Swad of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

A couple of hours before Brewer posted a spectacular 67-66-133 at Cincinnati, Snead took the first step in his long crusade to end the elusive Open crown yesterday when he tied Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla., for the lead in the toughest of 24 trials across the nation with 69-72-141 at White Plains, N. Y. Now he can breathe easily until the Open begins to unwind at Toledo's Inverness Club on June 13.

The 142 who qualified yesterday joined 19 exempt players headed by defending champion Cary Middlecoff, PGA Champ Jackie Burke and British Open Champion Peter Thomson in the starting field at Inverness along with Hawaiian Ted Makalela, who qualified at Honolulu on May 27.

Most of the top tournament names got in under the wire but a few familiar names will be missing.

Byron Nelson 1939 Open champion, picked up after one round at Dallas; Tex., and Don January also failed there. Jay Hebert of Sanford, Fla., missed at White Plains, Bob Rosburg of San Francisco and the veteran Lawson Little (1940 winner) failed at San Francisco. Marty Furgol of Udon, N. Y., and Paul Horney of Bolton, Mass., missed at Cleveland while Al Bessellink of Grossinger, N. Y., and Skeet Riegel of Villanova, Pa., were casualties at Philadelphia.

Following Snead and Mayer safely into the starting field by qualifying easily at White Plains were Jimmy Demaret, Mike Fetchick, Gene Sarazen, Fred Hawkins, Tommy Bolt and Mike Souchak.
